S-406 The Capitol
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Murphy:

I am writing to confirm arrangements I discussed with your staff for Douglas L. Adkins, a staff member of the Office of Technology Assessment (OTA), to read the International Economic and Energy Weekly (IEEW) which is delivered to your office. We have agreed to OTA's request that Mr. Adkins, who holds a Top Secret clearance, be given access to the IEEW on a regular basis until further notice. Mr. Adkins has agreed not to take notes and not to cite the IEEW as a source in reports he prepares for Congress.

We will inform Mr. Adkins that he should telephone your staff to set a mutually convenient time to read the IEEW in S-406. Mr. Adkins is not entitled to read any other CIA publications.

Please let us know if this arrangement is not satisfactory or if any problems arise. Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Liaison Division

Dear Mr. McGurn:

Thank you for your letter of 30 October 1984. We have made arrangements for Douglas Adkins to read the International Economic and Energy Weekly (IEEW) in the office of Mr. George Murphy, Director of the Office of Classified National Security Information, Room S-406 of the Capitol. Mr. Adkins should telephone that office (224-5632) to arrange a mutually convenient time for reading the IEEW in S-406.

We ask that you inform our office should Mr. Adkins' official responsibilities change making his access to the IEEW no longer justified. If any problems arise, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. McGurn:

In your letter of September 21, 1984, you requested regular access to the Central Intelligence Agency's publication International Economic and Energy Weekly (IEEW) for Douglas L. Adkins of the Office of Technology Assessment.

We are able to meet this request provided Mr. Adkins agrees not to take notes from the classified contents of the IEEW or cite the IEEW as a source in the reports he prepares for Congress.

Please inform us in writing if Mr. Adkins agrees to these conditions. We will then make arrangements giving Mr. Adkins regular access to the IEEW on the Hill.

Sincerely,

Liaison Division

Dear Ms. Brown:

I would like to request access to the CIA publication "International Economic and Energy Weekly" for Douglas L. Adkins, Senior Analyst in the International Security and Commerce Program of OTA. He needs the publication for use in his work as an international economist in several projects and areas of responsibility.

He is responsible for writing reports, preparing and giving testimony to Congressional committees, and briefing members of Congress and Congressional staff in the following areas: (1) international telecommunications regulation and trade, including U.S. participation in such international organizations as ITU, INTELSAT, and COPUOS, (2) countertrade with East Bloc and developing countries, (3) OECD trade with the Middle East, including forecasting Middle East petroleum exports, and (4) U.S. international trade, multilateral and bilateral trade negotiations, and other areas in the international economy involved in OTA work for Congress.

In many of these areas, timely and accurate information, particularly involving sensitive subject matter currently under negotiation with other countries, cannot be obtained from other sources.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,

Tom McGurn

MEMORANDUM FOR: JT

George Murphy says OK to let
Adkins read IEEW in S-406
(his office). Once we get letter from McGuire, I can send letter to Murphy putting arrangement in print. Do you think this is acceptable plan?
